The Microsoft is totally unfounded. What Microsoft did for the computer industry and the internet was and is invaluable. All they are guilty of is setting the stanard protocol of communication between computers and computer users whether through the internet or not. The American Consumer is free to choose whatever software or hardware we wish. Mr. Gates and Microsoft revolutionized not monopolized the computer industry. I personally have used all the available operating systems and hardware available on the market and Microsofts products superior. Simply put: if you don't like it, buy something else. Mr. Gates and Microsoft pay taxes too. And I'm sure thier taxes for one tear equal more than a blue collar citizen, like myself will earn in 5 or 10 years. Microsoft is guilty only of producing a better product. Thank you
